Reflection:
 One of my patron saints is Francis of Assisi. He lived what God made everything and declared it "good." We don't work could genuflect before every person he met, even very un-doing, he worshipped the Lord in every person.

If all Christians did this today, respect would increase dram.

Ps 119:1-2, 4-5, 7-8
Matthew 5:43-48

Jesus says in today's Gospel reading, "Be perfect, just as your heavenly Father is perfect." Did he really mean that? Does God demand perfection from us?

In scripture, the word "perfect" means "complete, total, full". Nothing's missing.

Mistakes are not sins, and Jesus is not implying that we should be perfectionists who never make mistakes. Rather, he's saying that all sins should be avoided. Incomplete virtues should be examined to find the reasons for their incompleteness.

 Matthew 5:43-48

Jesus says in today's Gospel reading, "Be perfect, just as your heavenly Father is perfect." Did he really mean that? Does God demand perfection from us?

In scripture, the word "perfect" means "complete, total, full". Nothing's missing.

Mistakes are not sins, and Jesus is not implying that we should be perfectionists who never make mistakes. Rather, he's saying that all sins should be avoided. Incomplete virtues should be examined to find the reasons for their incompleteness.
